HIS RECOVERY ALMOST MIRACULOUS.

An Apparently Strong Plea in the Cause of Murdere Kemmler.

H. M. Stevens, of Boston, does not believe In using electricity for executing criminals. He tried it once himself and the results were not entirely satisfactory. He is not dead, but he suffered awful agony for a number of hours, and still feels the results of his experience. He thinks Kemmler had better be hanged.

Bosron, June 11 .- The terrible uncer tainty of electricity in its effect upon the human body was never better illustrated than in the case of H. M. Stevens, of this city, who four years ago received a shock equivalent to 1,500 volts-the greatest on record, so far as known. The fact that he recovered, after awful agony, and is to-day a healthy and robust man, argues strongly against the claim of electrical experts that electricity affords a simple and efficacious method of producing death.

In view of Murderer Kemmler's efforts in New York State to escape the execution of his death sentence by electricity, the testimony of Mr. Stevens is very interesting at this time. He is Assistant Superintendent of the Boston Electric Light Company, and to-day gave the correspondent a full ac-count of his remarkable contact with the mysterious electric fluid. He was Superintendent, four years ago this summer, of the Middlesex Electric Lighting Company, in Lowell. In making a tour of inspection of the machines he came in contact with the brushes of a 35-light dynamo. He slipped upon an oily spot on the floor, fell forward, instinctively put out both hands to save unwittingly grabbed with either hand the positive and negative brushes of the machine.

SOMETHING OF A SHOCK.

A circuit was completed, with his body as the medium, and a force of electricity equal to 50,000 candle power, or about 1,500 volts, shot instantaneously through him and prostrated him violently in the field of the machine. There he lay for a few seconds, the current all the time entering his body, until finally, from his own weight, he dropped off to the floor. To all appearances he was dead. All this happened in less time than it takes to describe it.

The shock was sufficient to kill an ordipary man. According to the best ele opinion, Murderer Kemmler, in New York, will receive no greater charge. Stevens, however, was not dead, and his recovery is the most remarkable part of his strange ex-perience. They picked him up and carried him away. Dr. Brissel, of Lowell, was The pulse and the heart showed no signs of life. The eyes were set, the limbs were rigid and the arms were drawn

The flesh was cold and the bloody gashes between the fingers were apparent, showing where the fiesh had been burned. The doctors went to work earnestly enough, but the case was one in which the symptoms were altogether unknown to medical science. They pried open the mouth and poured a big glass of whisky into the stomach. It

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

Next the medical men pounled and adelphia at 7:45 and New York 10:45 A. M., rubbed for an hour, but the body never with Pullman palace sleeping cars atmoved a muscle. The miraculous now occurred. This man had all the while been insulated with enough electricity in his eystem to charge another machine. He had been lying all the while on the floor. An attendant at the station suggested placing the body on the ground where it was damp. This was done and the man began to revive. After an hour the patient became conscious but it was the consciousness of agony. The electricity was slowly passing out of the body into the ground.

Stevens suffered terribly for four hours after consciousness. He kept gasping for breath, and tried to articulate but could not. They gave him more whisky, and continued the rubbing and pounding proc-ess, and finally he was able to be removed to his room in the St. Charles Hotel. Every faculty and function had been paralyzed, but one by one they regained something like their normal condition. The legs felt alternately as if they had been amputated at the knee, or again as if they had been lengthened out until they were a block long and tapered to a point. On one leg, above the knee, were two light blue spots. VERY SENSITIVE.

After doctoring him for a couple of weeks the physicians brought him around, but from that day to this Mr. Stevens has carried the reminders of that terrible charge of think of furnishing our homes to be cool and inviting. Chairs, rockers and settees made especially for the summer trade now 1,500 volts in his body. He is a sort of dynamo all in himself. He is very sensitive to the approach or presence of a thun-der storm, and always feels depressed during its continuance.

"Do I believe in killing a man by electricity?" he exclaimed, when asked what he thoughty of executing a man in that way. "No, I do not. I don't believe the profession knows enough about electricity yet to warrant them attempting to kill a man with it. All electricians know that different men are differently affected by electricity. Some can stand a little, others more and some can take an enormous charge without fatal result. This must be borne in mind in giving a man a charge, and it is especially important in the case of executing a mur-derer. Suppose they don't give him enough and he recovers, as I did, what torture must he suffer! And why shouldn't he recover and fool the physicians? If he's a naturally strong man, has no heart trouble and is well preserved, the chances are that he will pull through if they give him the op-

SOME POSSIBILITIES. "Or again, if he has been a laborer, accustomed to manual labor or exposure to the aun for a long time, his flesh must neces-sarily have become more or less hardened, that is insulated, and the electricity would have less effect upon him. There are ever so many fine points to be considered; and from what I know from personal observa-tion as a practical investigator of the work-ings of electricity. I think it's a very risky thing to try to execute this Kemmier by electricity. The science is not far enough removed from the experimental stage as yet. I am in favor of the old-fashioned hang-man's rope, and if I can help Kemmler to Another remarkable thing about Mr. Steven's experience is that after recovery he began to gain flesh rapidly. At the time he weighed 135, and in six months he tipped the beam at 165, and to-day weighs close to 160. He says it is due to the electricity, but just why he cannot say.

A CONTRACT OF THE SECOND

READY FOR TUESDAY. The W. C. T. U. Prepared for an Attack on the Polling Places. At the special meeting of the County W. C. T. U., yesterday, there was a large attendance, and all of the arrangements for the work at the polls next Tuesday were completed. The report of the Committee on the Distribution of Literature showed that every home in the country had been supplied.

At the polls on Tuesday the children of the Bands of Hope will assemble and sing temperance songs; refreshments will be served free; mottoes will be posted up, and nothing will be left undone to influence the voters. A resolution sanctioning the plan of going to the polls was adopted, and it will be carried out.

There are three three and one two-story houses on the property, but they are not considered in point of value, as the intention of the would-be buyers is to tear down the buildings and build business houses. Some say that within the next decade all the heavy traffic business of the city will approach the Point.

The swindle was of antique pattern and a native of any experience would not have been caught. M. Transon was standing in front of the hotel and was accosted by a business-like individual who seemed to be in a great hurry and who exhibited a $1,000 bond which he wanted to borrow $100 on, saying he had a freightbill of that amount to pay immediately and the banks not being yet opened he was greatly perturbed and said that a loan of that amount would be a great accommodation. M. Transon without premeditation handed him the money and the rascal in return gave his card to the lender, indorsed "C. Morgan, City." At this stage the confederate came along and Morgan gave him the money, with instructions to pay the freight bill and get the goods. The first swindler remained in conversation for a time, but finally told the victim to come with him to the bank and get the money, taking him to the office of the Philadelphia Gas Company, on Penn avenue. "Morgan" seated M. Transon in the main office and went into the interior for the cash. After waiting an hour M. Transon got weary and started to look for Morgan, but he wasn't about. He had wandered away and at last accounts was still wandering.

Cured of Catarrhal Asthma. Mrs. Alice Brownhill, an English lady, but who has lived in this country for nearly two years, has for the past ten years been badly afflicted with asthma. It was produced by a catarrhal poison in her system that was slowly but surely doing its deadly work. A part of the secretion that formed in her head was discharged through her nose, and a part dropped down the back part of her throat, and which, setting up an irritated condition in her lungs, produced asthma. She coughed, and her breath at times was very short. She had pains under her shoulder blades, and also over her eyes. her shoulder blades, and also over her eyes. Her appetite was very poor, and the little food she was able to eat gave her stomach much distress and belohing of gas, and every morning she would vomit up her food. As has been stated, her breath was very short, and every time she caught a cold she would have to be boistered up in bed during the night in order to breathe. When she applied, last April, to the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute for treatment, the wheezing in her lungs could be beard all over the house. On May 24 she says "that my catarrh and asthma have been entirely cured by the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute. I hereby sign my name.

able Suggestions on the Subject. At the Madison Square Garden, New York recently, five women, for six days in succession rode over 100 miles each day upon bicycles, and at the end of that time were well and strong This proves conclusively that women have strength and endurance often equal to men. Why, then, are they called a weak race? Be-cause they make little effort to secure strength or retain it after it has been secured. Women are pale, sallow, troubled with many weaknesses, and why? Because they do not observe the laws of health and keep their bodies as they should. Their blood becomes thin and beats slowly. It should be stimulated to strong and healthy action. Cosmetics will not do this, nostrums cannot, but pure whiskey, taken as a medicine, will. If the lady of society returning from a reception or shopping expedition will use a little pure whiskey. Nature will be assist-ed so that instead of breaking down it will be tided over until it can recuperate. If the weary woman who is beset by work and cares will do the same thing, she, too, will be helped. Anything that assists nature helps bring health The importance of using only pure whiskey cannot be too strongly urged, but there is little good and pure whiskey to be had. The only safe one to take is Duffy's. It is a Pure Malt Whiskey, free from all impurities, and has been used by the most prominent men and women in America for years. It is recommended by the leading physicians, chemists, clergymen, and it merits the great popularity it has,

DISORDERS OF THE STOMACH. DYSPEPSIA.

This disease seems to affect nearly the entire human family. Its fects persons in dif-ferent ways. Dyspepsia is simply indiges-tion, or want of power to convert food into chyle, from which the blood is mainly derived. The process of digestion may be more or less obstructed for years by im-proper food, want of exercise, overwork, care, depression and other causes, before the marked symptoms of the disease manifest themselves. At length follow the irregular appetite, discomfort before or after eating, rising of food, eructations, gastric irritability, costiveness or diarrhoes, pains in the chest, pains in the limbs, pains in the head, restlessness, loss of flesh, de-bility, mental depression, palpitation, dizziness, suffocation and nearly every discomfort known to mortals. CONSIDER LOSSES NOW,

But Pushing the Great Work On. Until Every Garment Will Be In the Hands of the Consumer.

This is the plan we have mapped out-the policy we will pursue in conducting the anti-backward season sale inaugurated by us last week. We waited patiently for old sol to assert himself, but in vain. Where was gentle spring? Flowery May? Rosy June? It is a common remark now that never has there been so raw, cold, wet and disagreeable spring as the present. It's no matter of surprise, under these circumstances, that people didn't feel like buying thin, light summer garments. But these must be sold as well as the rest. Profits are out of the question, of course. The whole thing resolves itself in: What'll the loss be? But, as the head line of this "ad." reads, we have "no time to stop to consider losses now." Our united energies are now bent on selling our Men's and Boys' fine summer Suits. This done, it'll then be plenty time to figure up our losses.
